

Two Convicts, Detective Shot In Wild Fight

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Police trapped three bank-robbing escaped convicts early today, killing two of them in a blazing gun battle that cost the life of one detective and seriously wounded another. The third desperado was captured unhurt.

A hail of pistol and machine gun bullets ended the careers of terror of two bad men from Harlan county, Kentucky, Joseph Nolen, 26, and his brother, Ballard, 22. Captured was Elmer Schuer, 21, of Chicago.

Coal Miners Hail Victory, New Contract

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 21 (AP)—Jubilant soft coal miners, fear of a budget-wrecking strike lifted from their minds, today hailed their new contract, giving them a pay boost of $1.90 a day, as "a great victory."

John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, reached agreement with Northern soft coal operators yesterday, halting a strike of 170,000 workers set for tomorrow.

Lewis likely will insist on, and get, the same terms from the rest of the industry for his 300,000 other members.

The agreement raises the Northern miners' pay to $18.25 a day. The operators also will pay 40 cents a ton into the miners' welfare fund, instead of 30 cents, as in the past.

A Sanatoga motorist and the wife of a Hilldale driver were injured seriously at 1:15 o'clock yesterday morning in a two-car collision on Route 422 in front of the Limerick diner.

Robert A. Lacey, 27, of Township Line road, Sanatoga, was in "good" condition in Memorial hospital last night. He suffered a 6-inch cut at the hairline above his left forehead, two deep cuts of the chin and possible brain concussion and internal injuries.

One Block Has Three Collisions Within an Hour

The 200 block of High street resounded three times with the sound of bumping and crunching automobile metal between 4:45 and 5:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

Raymond Selinger, 1317 Queen street, told Special Officer Andrew Koch Sr. his car was struck in the rear by that of J. P. Nunemaker, Maple Gardens, at 4:45 p. m. when Selinger halted his westbound car on High street for a red light at Penn street.

Nunemaker told Kovach he tried to stop, but could not in time to avoid the accident. Though no damage was evident, the crash of bumpers turned many a pedestrian's head.

Forty-two minutes later, at 5:27 p. m., Joseph M. Bodolus, 333 North Evans street, stopped his eastbound car on High street at Charlotte when an auto in front of him halted suddenly.

A MOTOR CARGO, incorporated, truck from Akron, Ohio, plowed into the rear of his car, smashing the rear end considerably but (Continued on Page Six)

Rabbi Sets Task In Holiday Talk

Dr. Emil Schorsch, rabbi of the Mercy and Truth synagog, urged his congregation to follow in the footsteps of Copernicus, over the weekend.

In his first sermon of Rosh Hashanah (The Jewish New Year) Saturday, Dr. Schorsch spoke of "A Copernican Task."

"It was Copernicus who first conceived in the modern world the idea that the earth revolved around the sun instead of the sun around the world," he said.

"People were shocked by his discovery. It threw them out of their security to think they were not anchored in the universe but moving with tremendous speed.

"BUT IN time all mankind learned to think according to Copernicus' discovery and so it is that we must also perform a mental-moral Copernican turn.

"We must turn from materialistic egotism which chokes the human personality to death and robs him of his health and happiness. We must turn towards our neighbors, our house of worship, our religion and our God."

Dr. Schorsch's sermon Saturday morning was the beginning of a ten-day period of penitence for local Jewry to (Continued on Page Six)

Negotiations To Be Sought At Firestone

The schedule of new negotiations between the United Rubber Workers (CIO) and the Firestone Tire and Rubber company will be handled by the international union, Local 336 members were told yesterday.

The URW's policy committee in a closed session at Asbury Park, N. J., Friday night instructed the Firestone section to reopen negotiations between eight locals and the company.

No date has been set for new negotiations and it was pointed out at yesterday's session in CIO hall that the company may not be willing to return to the conference table.

Local 336 and Local 7, Akron, voted against the firm-wide pact, which Leland S. Buckmaster, international president, called the finest contract ever negotiated with the Firestone company.

SIX OTHER Firestone plants voted for the contract. The pact was defeated because a majority of the eight locals and a majority of the locals' membership must approve any acceptable pact.

The Pottstown and Akron plants have a membership of 14,000. The six other plants boast a union membership of 12,000.

A union spokesman said negotiations would be re-opened on 14 points.

The discipline clause is one of the points of disagreement in the new contract. The new pact spells out the word "discharge." In spite of the rewording, most of the union's top executives agree the new wording gives the company no privileges it did not have before.

Robert E. Garber, president of Local 336, was the last of eight local presidents to sign the master contract this past Aug. 29. The (Continued on Page Six)

Woman Escapes Serious Injury When Hit by Car

Clara Essick, 42, of 614 Walnut street (rear), escaped serious injury when she stepped off a curb at High and Evans street and was knocked to the ground by an auto turning off High street early Saturday night.

Miss Essick was treated for brush burns of the right leg and arm in Pottstown hospital at 7:40 o'clock and discharged.

She was taken to the hospital in a Good Will ambulance summoned by an unidentified pedestrian.

The driver of the auto, Edgar A. Rippel, Pottstown RD 4, said he could not stop his car in time to avoid hitting Miss Essick as he turned north on Evans from the eastbound traffic lane on High street.

George M. Heck, 501 West street, a pedestrian, told Motor Patrolman Stanley Borowy and Patrolman William A. Mars that Miss Essick stepped off the northeast curb into the path of Rippel's car and Rippel had no time to avoid the accident.

Newcomers at The Hill Get Acquainted During Informal Picnic and Sports Events

Representing 20 States and seven countries, 175 new pupils at The Hill school shed their blue suits for picnic togs yesterday afternoon to take part in an annual outing aimed at getting them informally acquainted with the faculty and with each other.

Highlighting the affair held at Far Fields were four touch football games, four softball games and three soccer games, all being played simultaneously thus giving all the boys an opportunity to participate.

"It was a beautiful day suited to every sport," said James V. Moffatt, assistant to the headmaster.

Moffatt reported that both pupils and faculty members played at the sports, with the school's new chaplain, the Rev. Thomas Winn, distinguishing himself by kicking the winning goal in one of the soccer games. New headmaster, Edward T. Hall, occupied himself by covering third base in a softball game.

"THE PURPOSE of these picnics is to get the boys in old clothes, as informal as possible, and develop friendships," Moffatt explained.

Following the games, which started at 3 o'clock and ended at 5:15 o'clock, the boys and adult participants were served an outdoor dinner by faculty wives under the supervision of Mrs. Roy A. Merwin, social secretary.

Food included hamburgers, steamed corn and an assortment of salads cooked and repared on a special fireplace of concrete blocks by R. W. Bristol and the kitchen staff.

"They came back for three and four helpings," Moffatt related.

When Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Yohn decided to build this home at 230 Wilson street two years ago, Yohn had more than a hunch it would be satisfactory. When he was a professional carpenter (he's a clerk at Pottstown postoffice now), he and his brother, Robert, Birdsboro, built a home on Sixth street that was very much like this one. Because of his background, Yohn was able to do a large part of the carpentry work on his own house. The outside of the house is cement block finished with permatone. Downstairs is the living room (at left), kitchen with dining area behind large window at right; two bedrooms and bath. The bedroom upstairs at right is finished. Yohn is working on the other. There's a flagstone patio behind the house. The garage occupies the rear half of the cellar. The front half is unfinished. The octagonal window in the front is to break up the expanse of artificial stone. Behind the window is a cloak closet. Recessed windows at the side of the house help reduce glare. The roof is greenish. Touching up the porch woodwork is Mrs. Yohn.

Trojans Beat Huskies

By ED TAGGERT

Two touchdowns in the last 20 seconds turned Pottstown High's football opener into a runaway as the Trojans defeated the under-manned Huskies of Lansdale High, 33-0.

Long punt returns, a team's defensive tendency to fumble or get penalized in the pinches, sums up the initial performance of coach Heber T. Meyers' 1952 gridsters. About 2500 fans watched the Trojans roll up a big yardage advantage for three quarters, only to be thwarted time and again by the stubborn Dales.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Pottstown eleven broke the ice on Howie Bedell's 47-yard punt return, midway in the second period. Jack Bechtel circled left end on a four-yard sweep to dive over for the second tally, and the Trojans entered the final period with an insignificant, 14-0 lead.

Lansdale tired badly in the final left, and a block by Downie that period, and with very few reserves downed a pair of Huskie defenders, could not contain the hard-running broke Bedell into the open. Stahl Trojans. Flip Smoyer scored the dropped the last Lansdale on the third tally on a cut-back through goal line as Bedell raced by the right side of the line: Bedell Downie added the extra point by returned another punt 65 yards: placement.

With the defense still putting a stopper on all Lansdale attacking plays, Pottstown started one of its sustained drives on the Lansdale.

Bedell brought the ball there on a 21-yard punt return behind the blocking of Don Monroe, Bodolus, Sutton and Stahl.

After a penalty dropped the Trojans back five yards, Kirk hit Steve Chernesky with a short pass on the Lansdale left flank. Tall Steve shook off three tacklers before he was nailed on the four-yard line. Bechtel quickly raced to the left on the next play and took a dive that nipped the corner flag for the TD.

Smith kicked the extra point—he made two out of three. Smoyer's score came late in the final period after good running by Stahl and Carl Burns had moved the ball down to the three. Josh Sova, who kicked well on two tries, was in at quarterback as the ball was faked to Stahl moving to the left, and handed to Smoyer coming across to the right from his halfback post.

THE CLOCK was running out as Bedell gathered in another punt on his 35 and took the straight and narrow path goalward. The tired Huskie tacklers merely waved at Howie as he raced through the entire team in a path that veered to the right only when he reached the enemy 35.

As the whistle was a bout to sound, the Dales' Charles Bushar tried a desperation pass. Charging Trojan linemen deflected the ball, and Fisher caught it in full stride to walk across.

THE TROJANS' first drive fizzled at the Lansdale seven-yard line in the opening period. Fisher recovered a Husky fumble on his own 45 to give Pottstown the ball. Bedell moved the ball through the middle for 14 yards, followed by an off-tackle smash by Bechtel for another four. Smoyer took a reverse around the right side and reached the 27 yard line of Lansdale before being stopped.

One of the Trojans four fumbles in the first half occurred on the next play, but only on this one did they recover—the Huskies recovered four of the Blue and White's fumbles during the game.

After gaining six yards on a plunge Bedell fumbled, but Steve Chernesky was there to jump on it. The attack continued, Bechtel, Bedell and Smoyer moving the ball down to the Dales four.

Ed Detweiler, Huskies' end and one of the best players, nailed Bedell for a three-yard loss as he tried the left flank, and an incomplete pass by Jim Kirk gave Lansdale the ball.

Just as the quarter ended, Al Bodolus took a punt on the Lansdale 25-yard line and weaved his way into touchdown land.

But—and it always happened after a long run—the Trojans were penalized for clipping and the TD was called off.

BOTH SUTTON and Bechtel applied jarring blocks in the series of plays preceding Bedell's punt return touchdown.

More good blocking was evident when Howie fielded Ed Holnick's punt on the Lansdale 47 on the Pottstown in getting a 67 on the tricky Co-side of the gridiron. With Bodolus

Jimmy Demaret Wins Celebrities Golf Tourney

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Care-free Jimmy Demaret, who didn't play a single practice round in getting ready for the National Celebrities Tournament, won it today with a 71 for a four-under-par 282.

Demaret had to par the last hole to beat out three other golfers at 283: Byron Nelson, Ted Kroll and Sam Snead. But the 42-year-old playboy in the canary colored slacks calmly did it.

Nelson, who was only a stroke behind yesterday, slipped to a 73 in winding up with a 283.

Snead took a one-over par 71. While Kroll, from New Hartford, N.Y., played the day's best golf on the Lansdale 47 on the Pottstown in getting a 67 on the tricky Co-side of the gridiron. With Bodolus

Cols Lose Opener, 7-0

One quick thrust of 57 yards defeated Collegeville in its grid opener at home Saturday as Lower Moreland won 7-0.

On the Morelands first play from scrimmage, Joe Franks raced from his own 43-yard line for the games only score.

The rest of the contest LM played a conservative ground game to protect its slim margin.

Coach Bob Hackman's charges made several threats, one Collegeville drive carrying to the Lower Moreland 12-yard line as the game ended.

Fred McManna, Cols. quarterback kept the LM defense split, with his numerous passes. One of his longer aerials was good for a 67-yard gain, and put the Cols deep in enemy territory, but the drive fizzled out.

Lower Moreland held an edge on the ground by grinding out more than 200 yards, but the Cols air superiority gave them a higher over-all total on offense.

Trap Shooting Winner to Be Named at Dinner

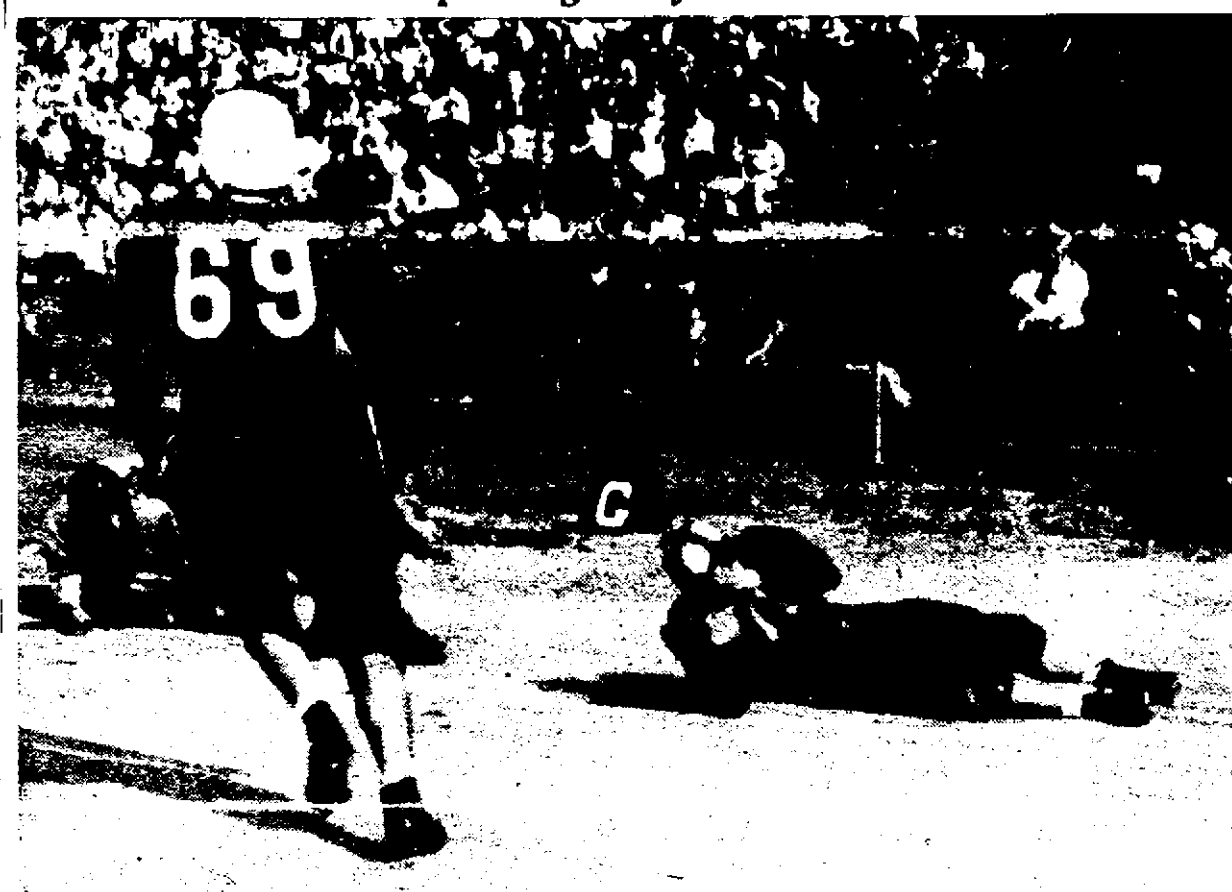

The Lower Pottsgrove Sportsman's association completed its trap shooting matches Saturday and the point winner over a six-month period will be announced next Saturday.

At present Ted Bodolus is the leader, but Saturday's points may change the standings. The winner will be announced at a dinner being held at the Boyertown Orioles.

The association was also busy yesterday stocking hens and cocks in various parts of the county, especially in the Lower Pottsgrove area.

Opening Day Action

Jack Bechtel (top, on ground) has no reason to hide his face. He has just skidded across the goal line to score Pottstown's second touchdown in the 33-0 defeat of Lansdale Saturday afternoon. Moving into the scene is No. 69, Steve Chernesky, who set up the scoring play on the previous down by running 35 yards with a pass to the four-yard line. (Below) Bob Sutton (on the ground) shows the kind of blocking he practiced all afternoon by taking out two Lansdale men to pave the way for Al Bodolus.

Bill Schindler Dies In Allentown Crash

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Sept. 21 (AP)—A big car race crash at the Allentown Fair has taken the life of Wild Bill Schindler, 43-year-old veteran auto driver.

Schindler was killed instantly on the third lap of a scheduled eight-lap second big car event Saturday when his car plowed through a fence and hurled down a 20-foot embankment, police officials reported.

Schindler, of Freeport, Long Island, was leading when a car driven by Paul Becker, of Palmyra, lost a wheel and crashed into a fence, police said; Becker was uninjured.

Apparently Schindler did not see a "go-slow" sign flashed immediately after Becker's crash, for his car hit the wheel on the track, and struck a concession tent at the foot of the embankment, injuring Russell Pehney, of Allentown.

Schindler, an auto racer for more than 20 years, was seriously injured in a race at Mineola, Long Island, shortly before World War Two, and his leg was amputated.

A former president of the American Drivers club, he raced three times in the Indianapolis 500, but never finished better than 10th. Although he drove almost every type of racing car in the past, he concentrated on midgets and big cars in recent years.

Schindler performed on both dirt and hard top tracks and set a number of records. In 1951 he had one of his top seasons as through Sedgman's service in the leading AAA record setter. He was 10th game of the first set. Then, national midget racing champion, he went on the attack and out in 1948 and 1949 and won $50,000 money the taller Aussie at all in prizes in the latter year.

WITH MORE interest developing in archery because of recent legislation authorizing hunting with a bow and arrow, the Perkiomen Valley club has enlisted 60 members. Other interested may contact any of the men in this account.

The deer hunting season for archers runs from Oct. 13 to 25, prior to the opening of the regular gun season.

Meigs Trophy Reaches Finals

Bill Beaver and Al Davidheiser will play George Clayton and W. R. Williams in the final round of the Dwight R. Meigs trophy tournament at Brookside Country club this week.

The Beaver-Davidheiser team defeated Jack Strange and Dan Skean, 2 and 1, and later eliminated H. T. Kemp and Ken Thompson, 3 and 2.

Kemp and Thompson had earlier defeated Abe Pollock and Don Orr by default.

The other finalists, Clayton and Williams, advanced with a 2 up victory over J. C. Fegeley and Elmer Jackson, and then won their semifinal match 1 up against M. Gavin and Dick Haur.

Ellis Jones and Gerald O'Dell had previously been beaten by Gavin and Haur, 1 up in 20 holes.

Seixas Upsets Frank Sedgman

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 21 (AP)—Vic Seixas of Philadelphia upset Australia's Frank Sedgman in an amazing straight set triumph—6-4, 6-4, 6-4—to win the men's singles title in the Pacific Southwest Tennis championships today.

It was the first defeat for Sedgman—world's top amateur—in a major tournament since early last season.

Seixas, No. 1 American amateur number of records, in 1951 he had one of his top seasons as through Sedgman's service in the leading AAA record setter. He was 10th game of the first set. Then, national midget racing champion, he went on the attack and out in 1948 and 1949 and won $50,000 money the taller Aussie at all in prizes in the latter year.

Upper Perks Defeats Wilson Borough, 24-0

By GARY TROLLINGER

It seems that those 25+ inches of newsprint in the past Thursday's Mercury passing on the good word on Upper Perkiomen's gridsters weren't wasted after all.

The Perks strolled by winless Wilson, 24-0, Saturday afternoon at West Lawn in their inaugural and showed to all involved that they'll be one of the Big Four's toughest teams this year.

Dave Pritchard's boys, on the rebound from a 4-4-1 season at East Greenville High in 1951, racked up a TD in each period to completely whitewash the host eleven.

And in Saturday's tiff, the postulate was: the best offense is a good defense, for alert Upper Perk defenders set up three of the four scores, accounting for one right off the bat.

To go with that first-rate stopper action, Terry Fetterman, in his first year as quarterback after playing end, center and defensive halfback, engineered a well-balanced attack.

The balance, however, was mainly of bombing the flanks and passing.

The bulky UP line had to create the foe forward for holes just through the first half, for the team's offense in the second half was just about all-sweeping action.

Wilson just never got a chance to show off its offensive wares. Whenever they got a drive rolling—and at times even before the move was out of second gear—the Perks gained possession either on a fumble or an interception.

THE HOST club didn't get by the UP 47 in the first half and got down to the foe 17 in the third quarter before Fetterman's diving interception cut short their scoring bid.

Terry's grab of Wilson quarterback Carl Hassler's heave was only one of five short-circuiting the Perks put into effect. That, largely, was the difference in the ball game, for without a bonafide air game, had to keep their feet as well as the ball on the ground. Then there was that UP line to contend with and the Perks came out of it like champs.

On the other hand, Fetterman and right halfback Denny Roth enjoyed relative freedom in the air lanes. True, two of their tosses were picked off, but between them they hit on six out of 14 for 33 yards, and two went for touchdowns.

In all, there was just too much Upper Perk weight, know-how and all-over sheen for Wilson, which had been trounced by Lebanon, 69-7, the previous week.

About the only Perker who had any trouble in his assigned task was extra-point kicker Len Miklosovic, who had two of his tries blocked and two of them fall short for an .000 average.

FETTERMAN suffered slightly from "greasy palms" in the first quarter, with his fumble on a handoff to Roth shortly after the start of the game giving Wilson the ball on the Wilson 35.

Here the UP pass-stymie system started showing what it would do to Hassler's heaves for the greater part of the afternoon as Gerry Hummel picked his first-down toss on the 40 and got back to the Wilson 39. Roth circled left end for 16 yards and the first of 10 Perk rushing first downs.

Hummel outflanked the defenders on the right side for eight yards, then punched right tackle for one more length.

Fetterman went down to the 10 for another first.

Halfback Dick Rice of Wilson broke through to nail Roth on the 11 but Hummel got down to the three around the right end and Fetterman picked up his own fumble and dove down to the one.

Roth's move around the right side of the Wilson line out of a single wing left brought the Perks their first score of the afternoon after driving 40 yards.

UP scored again just after the opening of the second period.

AFTER HASSLER hit Rice with a pass on the Wilson 31, the latter Perk 17 on two first downs. A fumbled, with the ball bouncing Hassler to Charley Murphy heave back to the Wilson 21 where Perk

The same play worked for another score just before the end of the half, but penalty nixed that. A 61-yard punt return for a score earlier in the second period by Roth also looked good for six points until the officials started checking into UP blocking and found two clipping infractions.

The third Perk TD, shoved across in the third period, was the only one that didn't have a break as its inception.

Midway through the period, the Perks started a drive after Fred Franks of Wilson punted dead on their 47.

Roth got 15 around right end and Del Fritz picked up his fumble after starting around the same flank, reversed his field behind the line of scrimmage and got 31 more to the Wilson seven.

ROTH'S BID around the foe left side got nothing, but Fetterman spotted Tomlinson all alone in the left flat on the one on the next play and hit Al with a strike that netted a TD with one more step.

It was right after that score that Wilson drove from its 36 to a pass on the Wilson 31, the latter Perk 17 on two first downs. A fumbled, with the ball bouncing Hassler to Charley Murphy heave back to the Wilson 21 where Perk

Bums Near Flag; Yanks Win

BOSTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Right-hander Joe Black, making his first major league start, pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers within one victory of the National League pennant today as he limited the Boston Braves to three hits in an 8-2 triumph.

The Brooklyn victory, 17th in 19 meetings with the Braves this season, came while the second place New York Giants were being flogged 6-2 by the Philadelphia Phillies.

Both Brooklyn and New York now have six games to play and one Dodger victory or a Giant loss would give the Brooks the flag they were eyelashed out of last season and in 1950.

Black who now sports a gaudy, if unofficial, 1.91 earned run average had answered the call for help 34 times this year before making his first start today.

ALLIE REYNOLDS

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Veteran right-handed ace Allie Reynolds fired a superb three-hitter and his battery mate, Yogi Berra, smashed a game-winning sixth inning single to give the New York Yankees a spine-tingling 1-0 triumph today over Harry Byrd and the fighting Philadelphia Athletics.

The victory enabled the Yankees to protect their game and a half advantage over the pursuing Cleveland Indians, who walloped the Detroit Tigers for the third straight time, 7-1.

Reynolds rose to the heights in the top of the ninth when he was within one pitch of forcing in the tying run. The bases were clogged with Philadelphia runners, there was only one out and a count of three balls and no strikes on Joe Astroth. One more ball and the game would be tied at 1-1.

But the 34-year-old star showed his mettle by throwing two called strikes to Astroth. He then got the Philadelphia catcher to raise a soft pop to third baseman Gil McDougald. Reynolds was not out of the woods yet. He still had to dispose of Allie Clark, a dangerous right-handed swinger.

Clark, hitting for Byrd, swung at the first pitch and lofted a simple popup to Billy Martin near second base to send the nailbiting, tense crowd of 47,362 home in a joyous frame of mind.

School Grid Outlook

Began to Take Shape

HARRISBURG, Sept. 21 (AP)—Rain and wet grounds provided extra hazards as all but a few of Pennsylvania's high school football teams saw action over the second weekend of the 1952 campaign.

The weather and numerous postponements over the State failed to prevent the upset bug from getting in his tricks, however.

Williamsport, the 1951 Central Penn champion, and rated as underdog Sunbury team, put on a Frank Merriwell finish to down the Ochs, 14-14. A 15-yard field goal in the last 11 seconds of play gave temporary Warren emerged as the the Biliports their 12th straight victory.

Williamsport's 14-11 defeat was a year ago at the hands of the same Sunbury eleven.

In WPIAL play a highly-touted Har-Brack team was rudely dumped from the title race by a 33-7 licking at the hands of Ambridge. Other WPIAL games saw seven more schools eliminated from the Class AA race as Sharon, Monacahele, Duquesne, Penn High, and Connelville lost and Greensburg and Donora played to a 6-6 tie.

One tie or loss eliminates a team for title consideration.

Three strong Eastern teams which compiled unbeaten records last year open 1952 play with victories although it was a tight squeeze for one.

RIDLEY TOWNSHIP, Philadelphia area champ, came from behind to edge St. James for No. 17 in a row. Swoyersville's Sailors, last year's Eastern Conference titlist, continued their winning ways with a 13-0 decision over Kingston.

West Scranton with seven in a row last season, came through easily, blanking a strong Plymouth team, 26-0.

Easton, Allentown and Bethlehem, the East's big three, all showed power in hanging up victories. Easton beat Wilson, 28-6; Bethlehem rolled over South Philadelphia, 32-0; and Allentown had little trouble with a good Norristown team, 19-0.

The Har-Brack defeat left Beaver Falls, Ambridge and the defending champion Farrell as top contenders for the '52 crown. Farrell polished off Meadville, winner of the District II Conference last year, 20-0. It was Farrell's second straight win in preparation for conference play which opens in

Two Upsets Mark Grid Openers

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Times was — and not long ago, that — September was a month for the college football powers to play what their coaches laughingly called "scrimmages" against their less fortunate brothers.

But pressure on coaches and players has increased, schedules have become tougher, game receipts have increased — and the days of the breathers have disappeared.

Now they start off with critical games right off and today, even before the baseball pennant races have been decided, two fairly important upsets and one near reversal were in the books.

Maryland's narrow 13-10 squeak over Missouri was the most surprising of the first big day of the season yesterday. The Terrapins were rated the second best team in the country behind Michigan State in the pre-season Associated Press poll of sports writers and sports casters, but they did not play up to expectations.

The fact is, they were pushed around the field for almost 50 minutes. Then, with a little more than a minute to go, Jack Scarbath, an All-America candidate connected for his second touchdown pass, and the Terps had the game.

Coach Jim Tatum's team now has a winning streak of 13 straight and will be favored, as usual, to whip Auburn on Saturday.

But Texas Christian and Kentucky had no such luck. The defending Southwest Conference champions went down to an ignominious 13-0 shutout at the hands of Kansas and Villanova thrashed Kentucky, 25-6.

the first in the NCAA's coast-to-coast game of the week television program and the viewers must have been disappointed in the champions' showing.

Gil Reich, West Pointer before the cribbing scandal, was the main thorn in the side of the losers, flipping passes for both Kansas touchdowns. The result established Kansas as a definite threat to take over Oklahoma in the Big Seven race. Oklahoma opens against Colorado Saturday.

It was another youngster who left Army after the cribbing exposure. Gene Filippis, who had a major role in Villanova's victory over Kentucky. Along with Ben Addiego, ripped wide holes in Kentucky's line. Filippis scored what proved to be the winning touchdown in the third period on a 42-yard run.

Otherwise, things went according to form. Georgia Tech, the third-ranking team before hostilities got under way, did the expected by routing the Citadel, 54-6, behind a mighty line-up of runners. The triumph stretched the Engineers undefeated streak to 16.

California, rated eighth, and installed as the big favorite to win on the Pacific Coast, took care of the College of the Pacific 34-13.

Three other top Pacific Coast Conference teams played and they all showed to advantage. Stanford defeated Santa Clara, 28-13; UCLA sloped Oregon, 13-6, and Washington slaughtered Idaho,

TRY AND STOP ME
By BENNETT CERF

A MAINE conservative who owns an inn just off Route 1 never ceases moaning these days about the ruinous effect of the new turnpike which diverts a goodly part of the through-traffic two miles to the west of his establishment. "We're on our way to the poor-house," he keeps reminding his wife Elvira. "Remember when we wuz turnin' away thirty to forty tourists every night? Things is gittin' so plumb bad on account of that dratted turnpike, we never turn away more'n ten or twelve a night now!"

One of the many celebrities who dwell in Stamford, Conn., is Editor Herbert Mayes, but his sumptuous home is so far from the town that servants are hard to find—and harder to keep. Mrs. Mayes finally latched on to a couple who seemed ideal and, after arrangements had been concluded, led them in to meet Mayes in his study. Seeing the crowded bookshelves and piles of manuscripts, the butler was moved to inquire, "What's your line, sir?" Mayes answered, "I'm the editor of Good Housekeeping Magazine." "Good Housekeeping?" gasped the butler. "Come on, Hilda, this is no place for us!"

Modern Glidden Tour Starts With Sputters

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP) — With an assortment of wheezes, sputters and rattles, 30 old-time cars bravely set off today on a three-day jaunt to Washington, D. C., 230 miles away.

Barring blowouts, breakdowns and bad weather, their drivers hope to join some 200 antique cars on the road, and all roll into Washington together for the 50th anniversary of the American Automobile association. Endurance, not speed, is the watchword, as it was in the early-century days of the Glidden tours, of which this tour is a modern revival. Named after Charles Glidden, a New England industrialist, the tours were promoted by the AAA to convince a horse-minded nation that dobbin was through.

NOTTINGHAM, England, Sept. 21 (AP) — For a century St. Matthew's church has stood in the center of Nottingham. But many of its worshippers have moved to a suburb, and St. Matthew's has decided to follow them. The vicar, the Rev. Stanley Pearce, said tonight the church will be taken down, stone by stone, and window by stained glass window, and moved three miles to a housing settlement in suburban Bestwood. The church council must be moved just as they are.

Little Girls, Angels Are Sermon Topic

HURST GREEN, Eng., Sept. 21 (AP) — There are angels in heaven, no doubt, the Rev. Charles Godfrey Bell said in his sermon today. But, he added with a touch of sadness in his voice, no little girl can ever hope to be one.

His discourse on angels was comment on a debate which has shaken this village of 700. It started some weeks ago when the vicar objected to the erection of a marble figure of an angel over the grave of 9-year-old Kathleen Reese.

A Church of England official, the chancellor of the diocese, refused to permit a memorial of such design, and now citizens are signing a petition to the archbishop of Canterbury, pleading with him to sustain little children in the faith that they may become angels.

The vicar's point was that the figure of an angel in a cemetery is inappropriate if it suggests a hope that humans, even the sweetest of little girls, might attain an angelic status.

"Nothing official has been said that denies the existence of angels nor our belief in immortality," the vicar said. "What has been said is that neither we ourselves nor our children become angels when we die. Angels are a separate order of creation. Man is made lower than the angels. His destiny is not to become an angel but to become one of the family of God."

Mother Will Plead For Return of Son

BONN, Germany, Sept. 21 (AP) — A Yugoslav mother will plead a chance this week before an American court in Germany to plead for the return of her son, adopted by a German family during the war.

US officials said today the high commission court of appeals will reconsider on Wednesday a decision awarding the child to its foster parents rather than to his own mother.

The court ruled earlier that Ivan Pirenick, 11, would be better off with the Germans who adopted him than with his real mother in Communist-ruled Yugoslavia. The mother, Mrs. Pavla Pirenick, is now in Bonn with her attorney.

Ivan's father was killed by the Gestapo during the war. The child was sent to an orphanage and his mother to a concentration camp. Gustav Siersch and his wife adopted Ivan after the war. Mrs. Pirenick located the child through French Army headquarters at the Red Cross.

Nixon Decides to Give Accounting to Public Of Personal Finances

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 21 (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon, fighting desperately to remain on the Republican presidential ticket, decided today to give a public accounting of his personal finances.

The vice presidential candidate, who is under fire in connection with $18,000 political fund, said in a prepared statement:

"I am preparing a complete statement of my entire financial history."

"I realize it will be misrepresented but I feel that when any question is raised about a public official he should make this information available to the public."

JAMES BASSETT, the California Senator's press secretary, who read the statement to newsmen, said the financial data will be given out sometime tomorrow during the Nixon special train's trip to Seattle.

There was no explanation as to what Nixon meant when he said it will be misrepresented.

Bassett said that the vice presidential candidate had decided to tell about his personal finances because of the many inquiries in recent days.

He called the questions raised both relevant and irrelevant. "Legitimate and of a smear nature." But he did not specify the details of the inquiries.

"We want to set the record straight," said Bassett.

Nixon was a struggling young lawyer who had seen long World War II service as a Navy officer when he ran successfully for Congress against New Deal Rep. Jerry Voorhis (D-Calif.) in 1946. He was elected to the Senate in 1950 at the age of 37, defeating another self-styled New Dealer, Rep. Helen Gahagan Douglas (D-Calif.).

Whether Nixon's decision to disclose his financial background was his own idea or was suggested by Gen. Dwight Eisenhower or his campaign advisors was not discussed. But in any event, the young Senator probably realized that he may not have too much time left to present his case.

A spokesman for Nixon said earlier that he expects to know "within 48 hours" whether he is to remain on the GOP ticket.

In the meantime, the young California Senator, described by one adviser as "fighting mad" over criticism which he considers unjust, intends to go right on campaigning.

Word of the impending showdown between Nixon and Gen. Eisenhower, the presidential nominee, was given out by Nixon's press secretary, James Bassett, Nixon himself ruled against a news conference, apparently pending a clearer definition of his standing.

Bassett reported at a 7:30 p. m. (Pottstown time) briefing that Nixon headquarters has been in constant contact with Eisenhower leaders throughout the day but that:

"There are no new developments to report."

FBI Estimates Nation's Crime

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—The Federal Bureau of Investigation estimated today the nation's crime toll would exceed two million major offenses this year, it reported a 6.4 percent increase in crime for the first half of 1952 compared with a similar period the past year.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said the estimate of two million crimes for the year is conservative since the figures on which it was based include only the more serious crimes.

The FBI's semi-annual crime report, released today, estimated that 1,022,200 major crimes were committed throughout the nation during the first six months of this year. The figures are based on reports to the FBI from local police departments.

On the average day during this period one larceny was committed every 26 seconds, an auto theft every 2.45 minutes, an aggravated assault every 6.23 minutes and a rape approximately every half-hour, the FBI said.

"Every 4.6 minutes there was a crime of murder, manslaughter, rape or assault to kill."

Nixon Answers Fund Charges

GOP Vice presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon stands on the platform of his whistle-stop train at Marysville, Calif., as he answers charges of $18,000 worth of outside aid. Decision Withheld by Ike On Nixon; Wires Pour in ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Dwight D. Eisenhower withheld a decision today on whether to keep Senator Richard M. Nixon of California as his running mate while telegrams from across the nation revealed voters sharply divided on the politically explosive question.

Nixon Is Defended By Joseph McCarthy

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Sept. 21 (AP)—Senator Joseph R. McCarthy, seeking re-election in Wisconsin, issued this statement today on behalf of Republican vice presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon.

"Nixon's frank accounting of his additional expenses paid by friends show that he did not personally profit by one cent."

"The money was spent to render better service to his California constituents."

"The left-wing crowd hates Nixon because of his conviction of Alger Hiss, the man for whom Adlai Stevenson testified."

"The Communists know that Nixon's election will be a body blow to the Communist conspiracy. 'Dick Nixon has given a complete answer to this new smear invented by the New York Post whose editor admits he once was a member of the Young Communist league.'"

Plaque Unveiled—PRESTWICK, Scotland, Sept. 21 (AP)—Villagers in the lonely valley at Carsphairn today unveiled a stone plaque as a memorial to 11 American Air Force men who died in a crash there a year ago.

Molly Campbell, who lives on Brockloch farm near the place where the B-29 flying tanker crashed in flames, raised the money for the memorial through village charities.

Villagers and the local miners' band played hymns at the ceremony. Most of them had helped fight the flames the day the plane crashed.

Service friends of the dead air men came from their base at Lakenheath in England and the United States Air Force unit at Prestwick provided a firing squad.

ALLIED PILOTS AVOID RUSSIAN AREA IN GAMES

Operation Mainbrace Scheduled to Open Within 40 Miles of East Germany

ABOARD USS MIDWAY AT SEA, Sept. 21 (AP)—Allied fighter pilots were warned today to give East Germany a wide berth as Mainbrace, the West's vast war game, moved to within 40 miles of that Russian-occupied territory.

US Vice Adm. Felix B. Stump, in command of the 200-ship fleet, and his political superior are leaning over backwards to prevent an incident with any trigger-happy Soviet fighters.

British, American, Danish and Norwegian planes taking part in repelling an imaginary invasion of the Kiel canal will be unarmed and will carry flight maps with Soviet-controlled territory heavily underlined.

Luebeck, 40 miles east of the canal, is the northern anchor of the Iron Curtain dividing the two Germanys. Moscow has made no secret of its displeasure in the maneuvers taking place so close to territory she controls.

THE KIEL "fighting" will take place Tuesday after a simulated amphibious landing on Jutland shortly after dawn tomorrow.

A force of 2000 US Marines will swarm ashore on Torup strand beach in the first American amphibious operation in history in Danish waters.

Although the planes taking part in the Kiel maneuvers will be unarmed, fighters from US Rear Adm. Austin K. Doyle's 52-ship task force 50 miles at sea will be fully armed in carrying out normal patrol action.

Doyle's flotilla—The Midway, Franklin D. Roosevelt and Wasp—the Battleship Wisconsin, the British Battleship Vanguard and the British Carriers Eagle and Illustrious arrived tonight about 100 miles from the Kiel canal after a weather-buffed trip from the Arctic.

The amphibious landing will be witnessed by a special group of invited Western diplomats and military observers. The Russians were not asked.

Greenland Believed Now to Be Cluster Of Small Islands

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—Greenland, contrary to textbook teaching, may not be the world's biggest island but rather a cluster of small islands hidden beneath the enormous ice cap blanket.

And that ice may be 14,000 feet thick instead of the 8,000 shown in current maps and books.

Other traditional beliefs about the Far North also may be disproved as civilian and military scientists study deeper the area where the United States has built strategically-spotted air bases under agreement with Denmark and Canada.

Geological surveys in recent months with new scientific equipment indicate that the ice cap probably is almost twice as thick, at its deepest part, as previously believed. A 14,000-foot thickness would mean that the bottom of the great glacier extends at some places almost a mile below sea level. These spots presumably would mark places between submerged islands.

Committee Convinced War Is Costing Chinese Heavily

WASHINGTON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A Congressional committee has returned from Korea convinced that the stalemate war is costing the Chinese Communists heavily and is profiting the Allies, one of its members said today.

This view was expressed by Rep. Fisher (D-Tex.), acting chairman of a House armed services subcommittee which toured frontline positions during an inspection of American installations throughout the Pacific.

Fisher told a reported consensus of the 10-member group was that the present stale battle line permitted the Allies to inflict maximum strain on the Communists at minimum cost.

He said committee members also agreed generally that Chinese Nationalist troops should be sent to Korea and, with South Koreans, should eventually replace Americans at the front.

THE GROUP visited Formosa and learned that at least two well-trained Nationalist divisions are available now for Korean duty, Fisher said.

The committee, in a forthcoming report, may recommend the use of Nationalist forces and may include other proposals, Fisher said. But the primary purpose of the month-long inspection, ending the past week, was to review military construction projects, not to formulate military policy, he added.

Sweden's Elections Are Won by Coalition

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Sept. 21 (AP)—The ruling coalition of Social Democrats and Agrarians won Sweden's Parliamentary elections today, but by a smaller margin than previously.

Stevenson Seeks AFL Endorsement

NEW YORK, Sept. 21 (AP)—Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson, "pleased and flattered" by the reception a Southern audience gave him, worked today on a major labor address which he hopes will clinch AFL endorsement of his presidential candidacy.

The Democratic nominee speaks here tomorrow morning at the American Federation of Labor's national convention.

All advance indications were that the organization would follow up with a decision to abandon its traditional policy of neutrality in presidential campaigns and vote on Tuesday to accompany by one of his sons, Adlai 3d, 22.

Sabre Jets Fight Five Blazing Battles, Destroy 4 MIGs

SEOUL, Korea, Monday, Sept. 22 (AP)—Sabre jets fought five blazing air battles with the Red Air Force Sunday over northwest Korea, destroying four Communist MIGs and damaging seven more in smashing victories that produced America's 20th jet ace, the Air Force announced.

The Sabres were flying protective cover for Fifth Air Force fighter-bombers raiding a Communist munition factory near Sinuiju on the Manchurian border when the MIGs sought to interfere.

In one fight Capt. Robinson Risner of Oklahoma City, Okla., shot down his fourth and fifth MIGs to qualify as an ace, the Air Force said after checking gun camera films.

The new MIG kills—first in four days—brought the Fifth Air Force bag thus far in September to 50. Another Red jet was shot down earlier this month by a carrier-based Marine pilot. The previous record was 44, scored the past April.

Allied losses, if any, will be announced in a weekly summary.

Stevenson was accompanied by one of his sons, John Fell, 17, and by Kane and his family. Stevenson sat next to Constance Kane, who was celebrating her 10th birthday today.

Stevenson had lunch with Francis Cardinal Spellman at the Catholic prelate's Madison avenue residence. The Illinois Governor was added.

Murray's statement attributed this quotation to the head of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's union in San Francisco on Sept. 6.

Harvest Festivals Are Celebrated in Pottstown Churches

The blessing of a generous harvest was evident in many churches yesterday as the Harvest Festival was celebrated with chancery. Gary Ward Kramer, Mary Louise Kunkle, Gail Ann Leader, Hollis Priscilla Lessig, Ronald Marvin Moyer.

Emmanuel Lutheran had its largest attendance since Easter Sunday. Almost 700 attended Sunday school and over 600 were in church, where 700 pieces of foodstuff were laid before the altar. The harvest gifts will go to the Lutheran Home for Orphans and Aged in Germantown.

Red vestments were worn by the Rev. Edgar S. Brown Jr., pastor of Grace Lutheran church yesterday in celebration of St. Matthew's day at the morning service. The disciple who died a martyr's death is remembered in this manner every year in Lutheran, Episcopal and Catholic churches.

First Baptist weekly bulletins are featuring a series of cover designs portraying the symbols for each of the Apostles that have been used by the church.

Evening services were resumed last night at 7:30 o'clock. Ushers were Maurice Borneman, William Dettner, Douglas Nichols, Wesley Nichols and William Price.

A church loyalty campaign will begin on Oct. 5, with special days observed on each succeeding Sunday until Nov. 2.

Hit-Run Driver Sought by Police

Police are seeking the driver of a 15-year-old black car which early Saturday morning damaged two parked autos in the 300 block of Cherry street and sped away as two young men watched.

Albert Piazza, 218 South street, and Edward Ottaviano, 441 Cherry street, told Motor Patrolman Joseph Tholds and Patrolman William A. Mars they were driving east on Cherry street when the black car sped toward at 2:45 a. m.

The auto, they said, struck the left rear fender and tail-light of a car owned by Charles E. Klaus, 376 Cherry street, and another auto whose owner was not known by police last night.

The left front fender of the second car was smashed and its left side scratched. Piazza and Ottaviano gave police a description of the hit-run car.

In 1952 Canada produced 3,470,000 gallons of maple syrup and sugar products.

A great man quotes bravely, and will not draw on his invention when his memory serves him with a word as good.—Ralph Waldo Emerson.

State Traffic Laws Soft?

Pennsylvania "too tough" on motorists? Thomas N. Boate, a former Pennsylvania State police captain who now is manager of the accident prevention department of an insurance company, says not.

Mr. Boate, who has had personal experience in enforcing Pennsylvania's automobile laws, said while Pennsylvania's enforcement policy is tough on violators, it is not tough enough.

He cited the records of the Pennsylvania Bureau of Highway Safety to show that while definite benefits in behalf of greater highway safety in the state have been attained through strict enforcement, a far greater improvement could be made if the driving public co-operated more fully by observing traffic laws that increase safety.

During 1930, Mr. Boate said, the state Bureau of Highway Safety processed approximately 200,000 traffic accident reports and over 120,000 arrests for traffic violations. As a result of these accidents and arrests, 37,426 of the operators were granted hearings to give just cause why their operating privilege should not be suspended.

Of these operators, 30,181 had their driving licenses suspended for periods of one month to a year, depending on the severity of the violation or the degree of negligence involved. This was the greatest number of suspensions made in the history of the bureau, according to T. Elmer Transeau, director of highway safety.

In addition to the suspensions, 3393 letters of reprimand were sent to warn operators concerning their future driving habits. More than 5000 other operators were required to take special examinations to prove their ability to operate a motor vehicle or to furnish proof of financial responsibility in lieu of suspension.

"The benefits derived from Pennsylvania's suspension program have definitely been established," Mr. Transeau said in his official 1930 report.

"The record shows that in 1937 this bureau was suspending only 3.4 persons for every traffic fatality, while in 1930, 19.9 persons were deprived of their operating privilege for every person killed in accidents.

"In 1937, 14.6 persons were killed for every 100 million miles of vehicle travel. Today it is only 5.1, the lowest death rate in our history.

In reviewing deaths and death rates in comparison to suspensions or revocations, in this or any other state, we can easily realize that there should be a definite relation between the two if traffic deaths are to be reduced.

"Pennsylvania can justly be proud of its outstanding accomplishments of highway safety. There still remains much to be done, especially in the co-operation afforded our state agency by cities and boroughs, regardless of size. No town or village is so small that it does not find itself confronted with some traffic problem, which might be eliminated by the application to a proper remedy."

The past year, according to Mr. Transeau, many cities and counties began to realize that "the missing link in our safety efforts lies in the rural areas." They also know, he added, that the local and state police must make a concerted attack on this problem if any improvement in the state's safety record is to be realized.

In addition to the 131,974 arrests made by the state police in 1931 for traffic violations, Mr. Transeau declared, local police filed several thousand arrests for serious violations in cities and boroughs.

Although nearly 20,000 fewer arrests were made last year by the state police than the 150,000 arrested in 1930, far more operators had their licenses suspended, indicating the increased emphasis on enforcement in Pennsylvania as a means of lowering the death toll.

The past year 40,007 operators were deprived of their licenses for periods from one month to a year, with some indefinite suspensions, compared with 30,981 in 1930. There were 3261 revocations in 1930, the largest in the history of the bureau.

The total of 12,384 special examinations or re-examinations ordered for operators who were required to demonstrate their competence behind the wheel of a motor vehicle increased more than 1500 over the 5000 ordered the previous year.

Take time to be safe.

PUNKIN CORNERS, September 21.

Editor, The Mercury. Dear Sir 'n' Brother.

Wal, I see by the papers where a Moscow newspaper pooh-poohs Dwight D. Eisenhower as a presidential candidate. This could be a terrific boost for the general, as any Democrat will ruefully tell you.

An item says the Brewster Foundation predicts $3 million barrels of beer will be sold in the US this year. Suits salesmen, it seems, plan to leave no stone unturned.

And say: After a careful study of recent photos of General Ike and Governor Adlai, most women have decided this presidential campaign won't be a hair-pulling match.

New Pottstonian Startled by Fire Horn

"Horrible Squawking"

To the Editor: As a new arrival in Pottstown I have been startled every noon by the horrible squawking of that singular type of fire horn atop horo hall. I suppose the old timers who have lived here 20 years or more have got used to the frightening bellow of the infernal contraption, but as a native of the quiet countryside there is only one thing I can compare it to. It sounds to me like an irritable cow bawling over a public address system.

Can it be possible that Pottstonians are so absorbed in their work or have so few watches and clocks that they need the deafening blast of that horn to tell them when to knock off for lunch? Is Pottstown so noisy that only a signal of such sinister magnitude can be heard in case of a fire?

The natives of such benighted countries as Indian and Mexico have their cars soothed each day by the tinkle of temple bells and the chime of church-bells. And I note that in pictures of such natives they invariably appear happy. I have no doubt that a part of their happiness

INTERPRETIVE

Communist Aggression Aimed At Satellites

By JOHN FISHER

MOSCOW INCHES along on two paths to world mastery: Aggression and consolidation.

Because the Summer has passed without a new thrust by Stalin's armed forces, the outside world breathes easier. Lulls always convince some people that the shower is over and they start folding their umbrellas.

But the menace is not less because we cannot hear fresh gunfire. The great Red bow constrictor right now seems to be digesting captive states and peoples. It is consolidating its gains, molding 800 million isolated human beings into thought-controlled robots and all its allied governments into abject puppets.

The process of conformity is less difficult in the USSR. Most Muscovites never have tasted liberty. Even their church—in other lands a link to outside friends—is historically Russian Orthodox and now at top levels subservient to Marxist Mammon.

Except for Ukrainians, Georgians and similar non-Russian folk with individual cultures, Soviet regimentation is confronted by no vital social obstacles. Satellites are not so tractable. Once they were independent. Their peoples have spiritual, blood and some trade ties with the West. Even shackles cannot chain memory and hope. But bondage still is prison.

MOSCOW BRAIN trusters conceived the idea of hog-tying prisoner states by making the Soviet Union self sufficient, or as they describe the project, "building Communism entirely on internal resources, on savings resulting from Socialist accumulation, achieved by Soviet industrial enterprise."

Actually that means the Russian Dracula waxes strong from the blood of its victim states. The Kremlin has collected wealth from puppet nations in the form of reparations. Polish Communists themselves admit that Russia took property valued at $500 million from German provinces now under Warsaw.

Trade has been reoriented to Moscow's advantage. Soviet-satellite joint stock companies control Rumanian oil, Hungarian bauxite and other raw materials and industries. These firms are protected from nationalization by local exemption laws passed on orders from the Kremlin.

In addition to economic consolidation, much energy is consumed in cultural rubber-stamping. In Russia itself the pressure is on education in the Lenin-Marx doctrines. As the school year opened this month, Pravda boasted that since 1931 approximately 57 million persons have attended some form of school, many of these grown-up peasants taking correspondence courses. All this would be encouraging were not education defiled by Red stains.

IN SUBJECT countries the drive is for complete Russification. In Bulgaria, for example, the learned Slovanic Institute has come out with a 1000 page volume completely warping history to give the effect that Bulgarians always were "Russians" and had no blood ties with Turks and Huns. Their proof? An old stone recently unearthed with Greek inscriptions.

In Czechoslovakia huge stacks of pre-occupation books from the Bratislava University's library were carted off to dumps until someone discovered money could be made from the rare old volumes by selling them abroad.

Warsaw Radio offers this sample of a "Children's Hour." The Minister of Education declared solemnly: "American imperialists poison the souls of American boys and girls. They put the little ones of Greece and Spain into concentration camps. They lead Japanese working mothers to sell their babies. It is their fault that the majority of tots in Latin America die from hunger at the ages of two and three."

Thus does the highest official in the Polish educational system employ falsehood to twist his charges into hate-breathing Communists. This is consolidation-molding the mass child mind into enmity against America so that later as grown-ups they will be willing to fight.

"Horrible Squawking"

To the Editor: I think police and the general public are going overboard in looking for those three convicts, what with setting up road blocks all over the place and with ordinary citizens walking around with rifles.

It seems to me that there is a danger that some State policeman will be shot down while walking up to a car with a flashlight. I suppose the other police and FBI agents "covering" the policemen would "get" the convicts, but this would be poor consolation to the trooper's widow.

Or some trigger-happy civilian may fire at a couple of young farmers in a woods. Especially in view of the fact that the convicts have not shot at anybody yet, it would seem that police should rely on the usual ways of catching convicts—checking license numbers and waiting for "tips."

There were plenty of "dangerous" men roaming around before, and I do not think three more will make that much difference. Pottstown J.O.T.

Cops Lounge, Too

To the Editor: I've always objected to seeing loungers standing on street corners until early hours of the morning.

I think it's a policeman's duty to help stop the practice. But a policeman certainly can't put an end to corner lounging if he hangs around corners and joins the small talk there.

Just watch the southeast corner of High and Washington streets early some morning. Among the few young men standing there, one will almost invariably be a blue-uniformed borough policeman.

Pottstown DISILLUSIONED

The Voice of Broadway

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN (Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is the celebrated basso, Ezio Pinza.)

IN POURING over a menu once I made the mistake of asking for the waiter's advice.

"What would you recommend?" I asked—and after deep concentration he he offered.

"How about ham baked with fruit?" "No thank you—I don't feel like ham today."

"Well, then how about barbequed ham?" It's really wonderful!" he suggested, and again I said "no ham."

"How about a chef's salad. It's light and cool. Just right for today!" When I learned that it was in disguise I gave up and ordered a steak. After all, ham is ham!

I should have been as wise about a ham of a different matter—the histrionic ham. But each time I entered a new field after my years at the opera—first it was Broadway and "South Pacific," then the movies and now television—people were trying to convince me that "acting" was not "acting."

Well—experiences have taught me that it is, though the trappings may be different. Fundamentally, acting remains a question of characterization, whether the medium is opera, theatre, television or movies. Let us say that the only true difference is the working-method.

FOR INSTANCE, in opera or the theatre, they give us an intermission of 10 to 15 minutes to change our costumes. In movies we have hours, if not days, to change outfits. Not so in television.

If they give us two minutes to change from a tuxedo into a period costume of the 18th century, complete with wig and beard, we are lucky. It is more likely a minute and a half. This makes for a certain hectic quality and singing isn't always accomplished under the most favorable circumstances.

Understandably, we get slightly out of breath. There are, for instance, some simulcasts—those which are not only seen on TV but can be heard on radio at the same time.

People who listen only to the radio broadcast have often wondered whether they were hearing a singer who was suffering from asthma that particular day, while those watching the same show on TV wondered how the singer could have made that change in the first place, let alone sing.

WE DO find isolated moments in opera and the theatre when we have to make a quick change. In the wings, or on stage behind a screen. More often than not, something goes wrong then—as the time when Jussi Björling, singing Faust, changed from old man to a young, dashing hero—all within a matter of seconds and to a set number of bars, while the orchestra was playing merrily on.

When he emerged from behind the screen he hadn't quite completed the change and was still pulling furiously at his suspenders, trying to prevent his thighs from slipping down.

Loves scenes in movies can be complicated affairs, as some limitations are placed on realistic acting. During those celebrated movie clinches an actor will find more often than not a lady hovering about him whose special job it is to see that the clench go so far and not an inch further—or a man standing by with a stop-watch to make certain that the amorous climax lasts just so long.

There are jobs having to do with a certain code, and I don't mind confessing that things can be pretty disheartening at times. But one gets used to it—as to so many other things in life.

FRANCES FAY should have a hit in her first Capitol record, a DIFFERENT version (and good) of the old Cole Porter standard, "Night and Day" . . . ACCENTuate the problem: Paula Corday, who was born in Tahiti, spent her youth in China and in "the French part" of Switzerland, wants to know if she could explain her accent by claiming to be from New England! . . . And Wanda Hendrix, hahn daun 'n Dixie County, Florida, has used cockney, Mexican, British and Italian dialects so far in her picture career. Now she'd like to try the Scottish. Which reminds me of the Scotsman who's always getting into trouble in our better bistros: asks people for directions to the Laddies room.

Hospital Dispensary Is Kept Busy by Attending to Wounds

Memorial hospital's dispensary broke into a rash Saturday, a rash of cuts, a dog bite and a puncture wound. The puncture wound was the most severe of the cases treated.

Gordon Silknitter, three, of Elverston RD 1, was treated for a puncture wound near the opening of the Eustachian tube of his left ear at 10:30 p. m. The wound was in the rear of his mouth.

The boy fell while holding an ice pick in his mouth. He was discharged from the hospital after treatment.

The dispensary's day really began at 9:20 a. m. when Dawn Schanley, 16, of 209 Berks street, came in with a cut on the inside of her left hand. She said she had cut herself with a knife while working at the Milk Shake bar on West High street.

AT 10 A. M. Charles Schwoyer, 49, of 776 Queen street, a borough highway department employee, entered the dispensary with a small cut on a finger of his left hand which he had suffered on the broken steering wheel of a borough truck.

Charles Wolfgang 50, of 170 Moser road, sauntered in at 2:30 p. m. with a cut on his left index finger. He had cut it, he said, with a sickle while working for his employer, Stanley Swinehart, a borough builder.

At 4 p. m. Angelo Caccese, 38, of Madison street, entered with a dog bite on his right index finger. An hour later Eric Barsheuger, Douglassville RD 2, was treated for a cut on his right knee which he suffered when he fell on a stone.

Probe of Nixon Fund Suggested by Sparkman

CLEVELAND, Sept. 21 (AP)—Democratic vice presidential candidate John J. Sparkman suggested today that a Congressional committee should investigate Senator Richard Nixon's expense fund.

Senator Sparkman made the proposal at a news conference following a luncheon with prominent Ohio Democrats. The Senator flew into Cleveland today for a one-day campaign stop.

"In fact," said the Senator for Alabama, "the Hoey committee, of which Senator Nixon (the Republican candidate for vice president) is a member, would be a fine group to look into this matter."

He conceded, however, that this could not be done before the Nov. 4 election. The Hoey Senate committee has investigated governmental expenditures in the past.

Gen. Ike Embarrassed By Deference Shown After Church Service

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said he was embarrassed when the congregation was told to remain seated while the General and Mrs. Eisenhower were escorted from church at the close of services today.

Ike voiced his embarrassment to the Rev. James W. Clarke while leaving the Second Presbyterian church, the other church-goers still seated.

"Thank you for the great service," Eisenhower said. "But Mrs. Eisenhower and I would like to retire with the rest of the congregation."

Dr. Clarke, a native of Scotland who speaks with a heavy Scotch burr, preached on "How to Climb Out of Despair." The sermon did not deal with current events and was prepared before it was known the Republican presidential nominee would attend the minister said.

"THE WHOLE nation, sir, esteems you for your great service to the country and to the world during the war," Dr. Clarke said at the close of the sermon.

"We wish you well and you may be assured, sir, of our prayers."

The congregation was estimated at about 1000 by the chief usher. There were a few vacant seats. Appearing fresh and relaxed, Eisenhower and his wife sat in the ninth pew near the center aisle.

Some saw the Lewis contract as even a greater victory than the 21½ cent hourly package wrangled by his old friend, Philip Murray, president of the CIO and the United Steelworkers, from a reluctant steel industry. The Steelworkers got a 16 cents hourly across the board raise.

The Lewis contract came, too, without the industry insisting on a promise of price relief from the Office of Price Stabilization before putting its approval on the pact.

HARRY M. MOSES, president of the Bituminous Coal Producers association, said the contract will cost the operators about 40 cents a ton and made it plain that the price of coal will go up soon.

"It is the greatest victory ever achieved by any labor leader in America for the benefit of the United Mine Workers—and the coal companies as well."

British Trawler Reported Seized by Soviet Gunboat

LONDON, Sept. 21 (AP)—A British fishing company issued a cryptic report today indicating that one of its trawlers had been seized by a Soviet gunboat.

The royal Steam Fishing company of Grimsby, Eng., said it received a radio message from one trawler which said that a second trawler, the 359-ton Equerry, had been seen steaming east in company with a Russian gunboat.

Just where or when or what circumstances surrounded the unusual joint movement of a British craft and a Soviet warship weren't announced.

The report said the "Equerry," with a crew of 20 under Skipper Wilson, sailed on Sept. 8 from Grimsby for a fishing voyage on the White sea grounds.

Pre-Fab Housing Comes to Stay on Korean Battlefront

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 21 (AP)—Pre-fab Abe Lincoln-type housing has come to stay on the Korean battlefront.

Some of Korea's most valued real estate — Old Baldy, Sandbag castle and other strategic hills—is spotted with such strictly functional housing.

Logs for bunkers are cut to size, notched at both ends, numbered in the order they are to be assembled and final touches added, like gunports and lookout holes. Reinforcing steel bars are provided to strengthen the corners. An even, properly fitting log roof tops it off.

Then they are rush-shipped to the latest battlefront subdivision—in this case the crest of Old Baldy peak on the western front.

SOMETIMES THE whole shipment is hand-carried to the front by South Korean service troops. Sometimes, the numbered logs are loaded on tracked personnel carrier trucks.

The bunkers are thrown up in a matter of hours.

The old system was often a catch-as-catch-can process of building a bunker with whatever lumber could be found nearby.

The outfit turning out the bunkers — called "Operation Abe Lincoln"—is Company D

Life Sentence Given Soldier on Killing Charge

BAMBERG, Sept. 21 (AP)—Pvt. Edward L. Houser of Aliquippa, has been sentenced to life imprisonment following conviction on charges of killing a German woman.

The verdict handed down Saturday by the US Army court martial is subject to review. The court of seven officers decided after two hours of deliberation that the killing was not premeditated.

Houser, 26, originally was charged with premeditated murder which could have carried with it the death penalty.

Victim of the killing was Mrs. Therese Hauke, 42, divorced mother of two children. She was stabbed to death on a Bamberg street on June 10.

of the Second Engineer battalion.

Company D has mass-produced well over 300 standard sized 8 to 10 foot bunkers. Now it plans to branch out.

"We are going to enlarge these things for eating, sleeping and things like that," said Capt. Samuel Clayton of Waynesburg, Pa., the boss builder of Abe Lincolns.

Frederick P. Lynn, Akron, later told Patrolman Paul J. Smith he had been looking into the exterior right rear-view mirror to be certain of clearing the fender of a parking automobile.

When he turned his eyes to the street again he saw Bodolus' auto stop. He attempted to stop also, he said, but could not in time to avoid the accident.

Eighteen minutes later, Joyce H. Blank, 212 Jefferson street, East Greenville, swerved her eastbound car to the left on High street between Hanover and Penn streets to avoid striking the auto of Irvin D. Peiffer, 1 West Third street, when it stopped suddenly, but she was unsuccessful.

Patrolman Michael Fern reported the left rear bumper of Peiffer's auto and the right rear fender of the woman's car were damaged.

traveling through the skull." The Mercury regrets that it has to report the "unfavorable findings" to readers who called the past weekend to ask about Bobby's plight.

But at the same time The Mercury wants to thank them for their concern and to thank the many men and women in Pottstown area's industries and the many individuals who keep sending contributions towards helping Bobby back to health.

Receipts for the weekend show an increase of $729.97 bringing the total to $4010.74.

The highest single contribution, $107.25, came from the employees and personnel of the Kinsey Distilling corporation in Linfield. Harold Ludolph, chairman of CIO Local 263, Distillers of America, brought in the donation.

PERHAPS THE most consoling letter addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Walters and all Mercury readers came from Mr. and Mrs. William H. Eichert and son, Harris, of Douglassville.

This is what they wrote:

"We all feel sorry for Bobby Walters. But you know there is One who is mightier than us and Bobby must be a little angel on this earth. For God to want him also.

"God has his reason to suffer little children and take them to his bosom so young, but He also helps them bear their pains. At times one can't understand God's ways—but He doeth.

"We pray hard for Bobby to get well. If it is God's will, he will. If not, God has his reason to take him home where all little children are happy.

"Maybe Bobby is not meant to go to war and suffer through hands of enemies. We all know that if Bobby is taken away from all his friends he will be in God's hands. "So let's all pray Thy Will be done—Amen."

Local 336 proxy had not signed the two-year pact when the union and the company reached an agreement on terms in Columbus, Ohio, this past Aug. 23.

He had been instructed by telegram after a local meeting not to sign. The telegram specified terms of the contract were not adequate.

The contract, which was scheduled to run to June, 1954, includes a full union shop, a 10-cent an hour wage increase, improved vacation program, reporting pay provision, pay for holidays not worked, double time for holiday work and piecework allowances.

The old pact called for a "modified" union shop which permitted employees to remain outside the URW. The contract provided all employees join the union as a condition of employment.

Approximately 100 Local 336 members present at yesterday's session were urged to support the candidacy of Gov. Adlai E.

Stevenson, Democratic nominee for the presidency.

At Saturday's closing session of the international convention, delegates voted to hold the 1952 convention in Grand Rapids, Mich.

NOSE, THROAT,

and Accessory Organs not Adversely Affected by Smoking Chesterfields

FIRST SUCH REPORT EVER PUBLISHED ABOUT ANY CIGARETTE

A responsible consulting organization has reported the results of a continuing study by a competent medical specialist and his staff on the effects of smoking Chesterfield cigarettes.

A group of people from various walks of life was organized to smoke only Chesterfields. For six months this group of men and women smoked their normal amount of Chesterfields—10 to 40 a day. 45% of the group have smoked Chesterfields continually from one to thirty years for an average of 10 years each.

At the beginning and at the end of the six-months period each smoker was given a thorough examination, including X-ray pictures, by the medical specialist and his assistants. The examination covered the sinuses as well as the nose, ears and throat.

The medical specialist, after a thorough examination of every member of the group, stated: "It is my opinion that the ears, nose, throat and accessory organs of all participating subjects examined by me were not adversely affected in the six-months period by smoking the cigarettes provided."

Sylvia Meeker Marries In Formal Fall Ceremony

The Rev. Elmer Fahringer officiated at the Saturday afternoon ceremony in Brownbacks Reformed church which united in marriage Miss Sylvia K. Meeker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond E. Meeker, 446 Walnut street, and Mr. Donald L. Buckwalter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Buckwalter, Pottstown RD 1.

Organ and vocal solos were presented for the more than 250 guests by Mrs. Helyn Brungess and Mr. William Peiffer in the white gladioli and green palm decorated church.

As she came down the white carpeted aisle, along white ribboned pews, the bride was gowned in French lace and satin. Her pearls, a gift from the bridegroom, lay upon an illusion neckline. Covering her head was a Juliet cap with a French lace finger-tip veil. Carrying a prayer book tipped by a white orchid, she walked to the altar on the arm of her father.

MRS. RAYMOND E. Meeker, gowned in honeysuckle colored net, acted as Miss Meeker's matron of honor. Pearl earrings, a matching hat and mitts and a basket of bronze mums completed her costume.

Attendants Miss Marjorie Meeker, Miss Joanne Romig and Miss Nancy Wetson dressed in similarly styled strapless gowns chose colors of blue, orchid and lime. Miss Barbara Meeker, flower girl, besides her gown of pale blue and basket of rose petals, had a necklace which was a gift of the bride. All the attendants carried baskets of flowers in shades to complement their dresses.

With best man Mr. Charles Harry Hallman, Mr. Harold Mertz, Mr. Fred Morton and Mr. Raymond L. Meeker acted as ushers. Ring bearer was Eric Meeker.

THE MOTHER of the bride chose a blue lace dress with black accessories, and the mother of the bridegroom chose plum lace. Both wore white rosebud corsages.

From the buffet luncheon held after the ceremony in the church basement, the couple left for Niagara Falls. Mrs. Donald Buckwalter wore a two piece fall suit in two shades of grey, an orange blouse, her bridal orchid, and black accessories for the trip.

They will be at home, 446 Walnut street, to their friends after Sept. 28.

Guests attended the double-ring wedding from Pottstown, Souderton, Philadelphia, Stowe, Elverson, Hatfield, N. J., Schwenksville, Spring City, Boyertown and Gilbertsville.

Young People Dance, Older to 'Klatch' at Christ Church Soon

Parishioners of Christ Episcopal church have become active in two new fields. A Young People's fellowship, recently formed by 13 to 20-year-old members of the church, has announced its first social event. The women's club has begun a new and already successful project.

The social event announced by the Fellowship is a dance to be held at the parish house from 7:30 to 11 o'clock Friday night. Refreshments will be served, music will be supplied by the King's Men orchestra. Dress is optional. Admission is 25 cents stag and 40 cents a couple.

Officers of the group are: Donald Kuszyk, president; Thomas Dwyer, vice-president; Theodora Govatos, secretary; Laura Strange, treasurer; Jeanne Kaas, publicity.

THE SECOND new activity going on at Christ church is a coffee klatch sponsored by the Women's club. It was initiated yesterday with the idea that if it should be successful it would become a tradition to the church. After the 8 and 11 o'clock services, coffee and a coffee cake were served in the parish house to those who had attended the services.

Enthusiasm was great for the coffee and conversation hour. It has become already a favorite custom.

Hospital Aides Tour Pottsgrove Manor, Elect New Officers

A business meeting was combined with an historical tour by the Pottsgrove hospital Deb-aides yesterday afternoon at Pottsgrove Manor.

Dr. and Mrs. Isaac Thomas were guest speakers and guides. The girls were particularly impressed by the linen press, which was used instead of an iron, the beds, and the children's room. Their guides spoke of the historical significance behind the fixtures that were in the rooms.

Events were planned at the meeting, presided over by vice-president Anna Ciori, through September 1953 after Betty Garner had presented the treasurer's report and Clair Bush the program committee's report. Additional reports were made on the July barn dance and the recent football jamboree.

RESULTS of the officer election are: Claire Bush, president; Dorothy Rosewarne, vice-president; Dale Lang, recording secretary; Mary Welsh, corresponding secretary; Julia DeMeter, publicity director; Judy Pinkerton, treasurer; Patricia Rose, historian.

A signing-up period was held for the Dramatic and Coralettes groups. The Coralettes will rehearse at the First Baptist church every Wednesday night, 7 to 8 o'clock.

It was announced that Miss Leona Smith will give a course to church girls for the baby-sitting bureau. Baby-sitters may be obtained by calling 3481-W.

Additional services that can be done by members of the group in the hospital were listed by Miss Munzer, director of nurses.

A motion was made and seconded that the constitution be changed to read that all girls in their teens, in or out of high school, may remain members until they reach the age of 20 years.

Lutheran Scouts Continue Proposed Trip Discussion
Girls of Emmanuel Lutheran church Scout troops 1 and 2 learned a new song about a frog in a pond in their Wednesday night meeting.

After the opening horseshoe and inspection circle, they discussed the selling project which will finance their Jan. 10 trip to New York city. A new secretary, Judy Moyer, was elected because the old one, Mary Grebe, didn't like the job.

Including two new members who are going to join the troops, Joanne Trout and Dawn Rubright, Scouts present were: Patricia Missimer, Patricia Geiger, Judy Fryer, Joan Miller, Judy Boyer, Judy Moyer, Genevieve Eagle, Judy Seavers, Joan Issinger, Joanne Smith, Barbara Geiger, Barbara Fillman.

St. Luke's, Trappe, Marriage Site for Dillon-Bechtel Rites

St. Luke's Reformed church, Trappe, was the scene of the Saturday marriage of Miss Dorothy Mae Dillon, niece of Mrs. Edna M. Santmyer, Philadelphia, and Mr. Harold L. Bechtel, son of Mr. J. Irvin Bechtel, Royersford RD 1.

Before a large number of guests, the Rev. Arthur H. Gilt performed the single ring ceremony, and Mrs. Blady Shoemaker, organist, and Miss Doris Bechtel, vocalist, performed solos.

In a white lace gown with an illusion neckline edged in beads and drop shoulders, Miss Dillon was given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. George DuPree, Philadelphia. More beads and pearls edged her tulle from which fell a fingertip net and lace veil. She carried a bouquet of Fall flowers centered with an orchid.

MATRON OF HONOR, Mrs. Ruth Wolf, wore a deep-blue strapless dress with a lace bolero. She carried bronze pompons.

Miss Jacqueline Cullen and Miss Yvonne Bechtel, attendants of the bride, wore dresses designed as shades of aqua and yellow. Yellow flowers were carried with the aqua gown, lavender with the yellow. Flower girl, Diane Bechtel, wore a pale green old-fashioned dress and carried a basket of vari-colored flowers.

Led by Mr. Robert T. Bechtel, the ushers were Mr. Arlan Bechtel and Mr. John Wolf. The ring was borne by Dennis Geisler.

Mrs. Santmyer wore navy blue, and Mrs. J. Irvin Bechtel blue lace. For the reception held after the ceremony in Liberty Fire hall, Spring City, from the couple left for a trip to Ocean city, N. J. and Mrs. Rhea Barton Rutter, Mrs. Harold Bechtel wore a blue suit with navy and white accessories.

Miss Carr is a graduate of Morristown Friends' school and Temple University.

Mr. Rutter is a graduate of The Hill school and Williams college, where he was a member of Sigma Phi society.

The marriage will take place in December.

Roshong-Leaman Nuptials Performed In St. John's

A double ring ceremony in St. John's Reformed church Saturday united Miss Dorothy E. Roshong, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Roshong, Pottstown RD 2, and Mr. Ronald S. Leaman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan B. Leaman, Pottstown RD 1.

The Rev. Paul C. Scheirer, in front of palms, white gladioli and carnations, performed the ceremony to which 200 guests were invited. Miss Peggy Hoffman contributed vocal solos.

Her fingertip veil fell from a tiara crown of pearls and rhinestones. She carried white carnations centered by a purple orchid, with white streamers ending in baby's breath and lily of the valley.

SISTER of the bride, Miss Elsie Roshong, chose blue net over tulle with an off-the-shoulder effect in her office as single attendant of the bride. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a bouquet of pink carnations to which were attached blue streamers.

Brother of the bridegroom, Mr. Ivan Leaman Jr., acted as his best man. Ushers were Charles Roshong and Mr. James Ullarrah.

For the occasion, the bride's mother wore aqua and the bridegroom's mother a blue suit. Both had black accessories and pink carnation corsages.

A RECEPTION was held at the home of the bride from which the couple left for a trip of one week. For the journey, Mrs. Ronald Leaman wore a brown linen dress, a yellow duster, brown accessories and her orchid.

Upon their return, the couple will live with the bride's parents.

Guests attended the ceremony from Lancaster, Harrisburg, Pottstown, Phoenixville, Philadelphia, Norristown, Collegeville, Kimberton, Valley Forge, Paradise and Kinzer.
